Karen,

Dan's request sounds very similar to the weekly (or biweekly) report that I think folks like Kacee and Liz are working on. It may be we should coordinate here and figure out how to respond to Dan. I've cc'd a few people for which this type of information may ring a bell.

Hi Karen -

IRIS items included in this week's Policy Calendar are shown in the attached file (please see my note from last week, below, for background). Are all dates in this file correct?

In particular, are the the dates for these milestones up-to-date?:

- Dioxin,noncancer - Deliberative Process / Ex. 5
- Dioxin,noncancer - Deliberative Process / Ex. 5
- Vanadium pentoxide - Deliberative Process / Ex. 5
- GAO IRIS report - Deliberative Process / Ex. 5
- Tetrachloroethylene - Deliberative Process / Ex. 5
- Tetrahydrofuran - Deliberative Process / Ex. 5
- Rammazzini pathology working group report - Deliberative Process / Ex. 5
- Ethylene oxide - Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

I am again supposed to provide input no later than 11:00 Monday morning, so if you can get back to me by 10:30 Monday it would be most appreciated!!

thanks,

--Dan.

Hi Karen -

The Policy Calendar is a weekly report that might be familiar to you (perhaps you prepare the IRIS entries for it?), but it is new to me. As I understand it, this document goes to the White House each Monday afternoon.

Our office (NCEE in OP) has been asked to confirm the accuracy of the summaries included for IRIS products - most importantly the dates of key milestones occurring within the next three weeks.

Can you please check the attached file, in which I've extracted all the IRIS entries, and let me know if it is fully up-to-date and accurate? I am supposed to provide input by Monday morning at 11:00, so if you can get back to me before then it would be most appreciated!!

I believe that we will be asked to go through this exercise every week. We will work internally and with you in the coming weeks to develop an efficient process for addressing this on a weekly basis.

thank you!!

--Dan.
